Outsourcing is the right path

Alone:

- ✗ Hire a video editor who is proficient in both your language and the target language
- ✗ Involve an external native speaker of the target language to verify the quality of the adaptation
- ✗ Pay all these professionals even if the translated channel doesn't generate revenue initially.
- ✗ Continuously manage the work of these professionals to ensure quick and effective collaboration
- ✗ Eventually, you may need to find new translators, voice actors, and video editors when the initial ones become tired or leave
- ✗ Every time you want to translate your channel into a new language, repeat all these steps

How we work

Translation and Adaptation

Your video is carefully translated into different languages, adapting the text to ensure a smooth and understandable experience for the audience of each language.

Professional Dubbing

For each language in which you translate your videos, a native-speaking voice-over artist from our team takes the translated script and performs the voice-over, following your style and conveying the intended message.

Video Editing

For each language, our video editor synchronizes the translated audio with the lip movements in the video as much as possible. They also remove any legally non-publishable parts from the video, such as previous sponsors or content not understandable in the local culture.

Description and Hashtags Translation

The description and hashtags of the video for each language are translated and adapted to optimize its visibility in different languages.

Quality Control

Once the translated video is ready, we have it reviewed by an external individual from the target culture who can assess the adaptation and translation to ensure a perfect result. Additionally, you will also have the opportunity to preview the video and provide feedback.

Publication

Each video translated into a language will be uploaded to the connected channel. On a monthly basis, you will receive 25% of the earnings from that video and all others already uploaded, effortlessly!

Let's split the profits

To produce your videos translated into multiple languages, we need to pay many professionals: translators, voice actors, editors.

Instead of asking you for money for each translated video, we have chosen to work on a percentage basis. We will keep 75% of the earnings from all channels, considering all the work involved, while you will keep 25% effortlessly.

Why we do it

Through this system, we are always incentivized to work correctly, with the utmost professionalism and quality, so that the channels we manage can grow rapidly.

On the other hand, you will have no expenses but will simply receive the earnings as soon as the channels reach monetization.

just for you

FAQ

• Which languages can I translate my videos into?

From English, we primarily translate videos into Spanish. In addition to Spanish, we can also translate into other languages such as Portuguese, French, or Italian, but the translation into these languages will be considered based on the performance of your channel.

• Why should I trust VidLingo?

Our earnings are solely dependent on the results of the YouTube channels we manage. This compels us to work our best to grow the channels as quickly as possible.

• Will my content be protected?

Absolutely. Before collaborating, we will sign a contract for the rights transfer of your videos solely for translation purposes. There will be clauses to protect you in case of misuse of the content. We aim to establish a long-lasting and professional collaboration, so we are ready to provide you with all the necessary guarantees.

• How will the payment be processed?

Your payments will be processed on the first day of each month and will amount to 25% of the total earnings from the channels we manage. You will receive payment via PayPal or bank transfer.

• Can I choose the voice actor for each language in which my videos will be translated?

Certainly. We will provide you with a one-minute demo of your video translated and dubbed by our top voice actors. This way, you can choose the voice actor you prefer for each language by seeing them in action directly on your own video.

• Will you be transparent?

Transparency is a priority for us when it comes to you. You will be a partner in every channel we manage, allowing you to see the statistics and earnings for yourself. Additionally, before publishing each video, we will send it to you so that you can judge it and provide us with your feedback.

• How many videos will you produce per week?

In order to have active channels that grow quickly, we will initially publish 2 videos per week, with exceptions in special cases.

• Will all of my videos be translated?

Our goal is to provide relevant and valuable content to foreign users. We do not translate all of your videos, but carefully select those with a broad global appeal. If a video focuses on local topics or is of little interest to an international audience, it will not be translated. Additionally, if a video addresses both global and local themes, we will remove the irrelevant or incomprehensible parts for users from different cultures, based on the judgment of our local adaptation experts.
